Attendance

You are expected to attend class. There is a translation exercise that you are expected to interact with for each class.

Course Requirements

In order to complete this course successfully the student should do the following:

- Read each assigned lesson from New Testament Greek: An Introduction & Beyond and memorize the paradigms and vocabulary associated with it.
- Read sections from The Basics of New Testament Syntax: An Intermediate Greek Grammar that expand on the grammar introduced in various lessons of New Testament Greek: An Introduction & Beyond.
- Attend class with the translation exercise assigned for the class completed (a translation exercise is associated with each lesson of New Testament Greek: An Introduction & Beyond). Your work should include the parsing for the majority of words, a description of the syntactical use of the majority of words, and a translation (independent of any modern English translation for New Testament texts). The completed assignment will be accepted only at the beginning of the class it is due and only if you are personally present to interact with the material. You will be expected to interact with questions related to parsing, syntax and interpretation as it is reviewed in class (make a duplicate copy of the assignment if you want to refer to your work as it is taken up). There are twenty translation exercises in total; your mark will be determined by averaging the top 18.
- Write two 90 minute mid-term examinations. These exams will require you to translate a paragraph and answer questions about points of grammar covered to the date of the test.
- Write a final exam of 2 hours duration. This exam will require you to translate a paragraph and answer questions about points of grammar covered during the semester.

Examinations

Final examinations are held during a scheduled time period at the end of the semester for regular semester classes and are scheduled by the Registrar. Graded final examinations will be available for supervised review at the request of the student. Please contact the Academic Dean.

Important Notes

- It is the responsibility of all students to become familiar with and adhere to academic policies of as are stated in the Student Handbook and Academic Calendar.
- The last day to enter a course without permission and /or voluntary withdrawal from a course without financial penalty is September 15, 2006.
- The last day to voluntarily withdraw from a course or change to audit without academic penalty is November 15, 2006.
- Personal information, that is information about an individual that may be used to identify that individual, may be collected as a requirement as part of taking this class. Any information collected will only be used and disclosed for the purpose for which the collection was intended. For further information contact the Privacy Compliance Officer at privacy@auc-nuc.ca.
- Although extensions to coursework in the semester are at the discretion of the instructor, students may not turn in coursework for evaluation after the last day of the scheduled final examination period unless they have received permission for a “Course Extension.” Alternative times for final examinations cannot be scheduled without prior approval. Requests for course extensions or alternative examination time must be submitted to the Registrar’s Office by the appropriate deadline. Course extensions are only granted for serious issues that arise “due to circumstances beyond the student’s control.”
- We are committed to fostering personal integrity and will not overlook breaches of integrity such as plagiarism and cheating. Plagiarism and cheating can result in a failing grade for an assignment, for the course, or immediate dismissal from the university college. Students are expected to be familiar with the policies in the current Academic Calendar and the Student Handbook that deal with plagiarism, cheating, and the penalties and procedures for dealing with these matters. All cases of academic dishonesty are reported to the Academic Dean.
- Students are advised to retain this syllabus for their records.
