Course Requirements

1. Critical Book Reviews (20%)

Each student will choose two books from three of the categories of texts in the bibliography that follows later in this syllabus. (A total of six books.) Each will then prepare a three comparative and critical book reviews (one for each pair of books chosen) that will focus on the central and supporting theses of each text, the author's arguments of support, and the student's evaluation of the overall argument. Finally, the student will compare and contrast the views of each other, noting both significant similarities and differences. Reviews are to be no longer than 1,750 words. Given the length and nature of this assignment, concision and precision will be necessary.

Due Date: November 22, 2011.

2. Reading Response (30%)

The Heart of the Gospel places the theology of A. B. Simpson and the early Christian and Missionary Alliance within the spectrum of late nineteenth-century American Evangelical theology. The student will prepare a ten-page response to the reading of this text. The response must be composed of the following.

- a. An Executive Summary: The student will summarize the content of the assigned text in his/her own words and must avoid just indicating the topics. There should be NO personal commentary or any attempt to evaluate the content of the materials at this stage. The student will solely summarize what the author has said. This section should include as many of the key concepts and ideas as possible and strive to be both comprehensive and intensive. It should be stylistically correct, coherent, and clear. The abstract should be no more than 1,000 words (double-spaced) in length.
- b. Emerging Questions: The student will record his/her own questions that have emerged from the reading. These questions should reflect a thorough, profound, and thoughtful interaction with the text. This section should include not only the questions but an identification of the reason(s) why the student is asking. Grading in this section will consider both the quality of the questions and the apparent depth of interaction with the text. This section should be no more than 750 words (double-spaced) in length.

- c. Contemporary Challenges: This text asserts that what is often identified contemporarily as “Evangelicalism” is not simply a continuation of the theology and practice of late nineteenth-century Evangelicalism. In no more than 750 words (double-spaced), the student will identify contemporary Evangelical doctrines and practices which are at odds with those of the late nineteenth century. In addition, the student will offer suggestions for how a critical reappropriation of late nineteenth-century theology or practice could help to revitalize contemporary Evangelical life.

Due Date: December 6, 2011.

3. Sermon/Lesson (25%)

Each student will prepare either a sermon or a detailed lesson plan that could be used to teach a congregation or church group 1) the biblical and theological bases, 2) the practical importance and implications, and 3) a proposed way to implement a contemporary Alliance practice of either sanctification or divine healing in or through the local congregation. While the sermon/lesson should motivate the hearers to action, particular attention must be given to its ability to rightly teach its hearers regarding the particular doctrine’s foundation and possible manifestation. This assignment should be approximately 2,500 words in length.

Due Date: November 29, 2011.

4. Final Exam (25%)

The student will be examined on their ability to identify, explain, and synthesize the material covered in class lectures, discussions, and supplementary reading.

Exam Date: The Final Exam is currently scheduled for Monday, December 12 from 6:30—9:30 in room A2131.

(While it is Ambrose policy not to return final exams to students, graded final examinations will be available for supervised review at the request of the student. Please contact the Registrar’s Office.)

Requests for course extensions or alternative examination time must be submitted to the Registrar’s Office by the appropriate deadline (as listed in the Academic Calendar <http://www.ambrose.edu/publications/academiccalendar>). Course extensions are only granted for serious issues that arise “due to circumstances beyond the student’s control.”

 - Students are advised to retain this syllabus for their records.
 - Course changes, including adding or dropping a course, may be made during the Registration Revision period, as outlined in the Calendar of Events. All course changes must be recorded on a Registration form, available from the Office of the Registrar. Due to circumstances such as class size, prerequisites or academic policy, the submission of a Registration form does not guarantee that a course will be added or removed from a student’s registration. Students may change the designation of any class from credit to audit up to the date specified in the Calendar of Events, although students are not entitled to a tuition adjustment or refund after the Registration Revision period.
 - Withdrawal from courses after the Registration Revision period will not be eligible for tuition refund. A student obliged to withdraw from a course after the Withdrawal Deadline because of health or other reasons may apply to the Registrar for special consideration.

- An appeal for change of grade on any course work must be made to the course instructor within one week of receiving notification of the grade. - Academic dishonesty is taken seriously at Ambrose University College as it undermines our academic standards and affects the integrity of each member of our learning community. Any attempt to obtain credit for academic work through fraudulent, deceptive, or dishonest means is academic dishonesty. Plagiarism is fraud and theft, but plagiarism can also occur by accident when a student fails or forgets to give credit to another person's ideas or words. Plagiarism and cheating can result in a failing grade for an assignment, for the course, or immediate dismissal from Ambrose. Students are expected to be familiar with the policy statements in the current academic calendar and the student handbook that deal with plagiarism, cheating, and the penalties and procedures for dealing with these matters.
