Course Description

This course introduces students to post-secondary studies in English by examining developments in literature and language in and over time. Students will study particular themes and compare different genres in and across a broad array of texts, placed in their historical contexts, which may range from the Renaissance to contemporary times. This course aims at developing sensitivity to genre, cultivating writing skills, and providing students with a set of literary terms and critical techniques as a foundation for further literary study.

A minimum of 30% of class time will be devoted to writing instruction. Because the course integrates writing instruction with the study of literature—writing through literature—this stated minimum will normally be exceeded. Graded written assignments, informal writing exercises, writing workshops, free-writing exercises, stylistic analysis, research skills, peer editing, multiple drafts, and ungraded writing will be undertaken. Students will be required to write at least two essays that will be marked and formally graded. During the course, students will write at least 3000 words.

Expected Learning Outcomes

- o To introduce students to major literary genres, concepts, and terms
- To teach students literary analytical techniques with which to understand literature for their profit and delight
- o To build competence in writing through the study of literature, giving close attention to mechanics, structure, argument, editing, and research techniques.

Textbooks

EN 115 Course Reader – posted to Moodle; to be printed by students.

Lewis, Janet. The Wife of Martin Guerre. Athens, Ga.: Swallow, 2013.

Messenger, William E. et al. The Concise Canadian Writer's Handbook. 2nd ed. Don Mills: Oxford, 2013.

Shakespeare, William. Much Ado About Nothing. Ed. Peter Holland. London: Penguin, 1999.

Dictionary: The mother of all dictionaries, the full Oxford English Dictionary, is available online via the Ambrose Library website and our course Moodle site.

Requirements and Evaluation

o Class sessions will be largely devoted to considering the assigned readings. Therefore:

- Read all assigned texts before the class for which they are assigned;
- Print the course reader and keep it in a binder. Printing costs are far less than the cost of a comparable textbook.
- Always bring the relevant textbooks to class;
- o Additional short texts introduced in class will be available on Moodle.
- In addition to the assigned readings, you are responsible for the content of all lectures on these readings, including their historical and literary backgrounds. In other words, attend class.
- o All assignments are due by the beginning of class on the date specified. For each, a digital file must be uploaded to Moodle and a hard (paper) copy submitted in class.
- O Late Assignments:
 - The penalty for late assignments is one refined letter grade per class day (T-F) late. Moreover, late assignments may be graded and returned later than on-time submissions.
 - Extensions may be granted on written assignments in exceptional circumstances, but must be arranged in advance.
- o This is not high school: all assignments must be submitted to receive a passing final grade.
- o The most current version of this syllabus will always be available on Moodle. You are responsible for any changes to it announced in class.

Participation – 5%

Participation is your visible engagement with the class and the readings: read the assigned texts before class, bring the text to class, look alert in class, ask questions, share your thoughts, and visit my office when you need help. It goes without saying that this requires regular attendance: skip classes and your grade will suffer.

Literalization Exercises – 4 x 5% ea. = 20%

To understand a poem, one must first identify its plain, literal meaning. You will write five sonnet literalizations; the last four will count toward your grade. Moreover, you may rewrite any one literalization and resubmit it. Due as indicated on the course calendar; optional rewrite due December 8.

Essays - 10%, 20%, 25%

Essays will allow you to develop your writing ability by practicing three different aspects of textual analysis: poem analysis (1000 words; 10%), comparison (1500 words; 20%), and research (1500 words; 25%). Essay 1 thesis due October 6; Essays due October 13, November 15, and December 8, respectively.

Final examination – 20%

The exam will be comprehensive of the entire course. 9:00 am Thursday, Dec. 14, Rm. A2133.

Further directions for assignments will be given well before they are due.

Attendance

Learning how to read literature and write essays is not simply a matter of memorizing facts from Powerpoint slides. Therefore, class attendance is mandatory. Attendance will be taken daily and will influence your participation grade. Any student who misses more than 10 class sessions will automatically fail the course.

Classroom Etiquette

In order for each of us to get the most out of this class, please observe the following:

- O Arrive on time. Attendance will be taken.
- o Do not talk compulsively. Be self-aware and leave space for others' voices.
- O Do not be silent. Speaking is a crucial aid to formulating your thoughts on a topic.
- O Eating in a formal venue like a classroom is brutish; since university education is meant to humanize you, don't do it. Unslurped beverages are fine.
- O Texting or having your phone beep, ring, or rumble during class is not quite brutish (animals don't use technology), but it is certainly barbaric. Since university education is meant not only to humanize but to civilize you, offending devices will be confiscated.
- Despite frothy claims to the contrary, technology does not usually aid learning. Therefore, students may not use any device more complex than pen and paper in our classroom. No laptops, no tablets.

Because of the nature of the Alpha 4.00 system, there can be no uniform University-wide conversion scale. The relationship between raw scores (e.g. percentages) and the resultant letter grade will depend on the nature of the course and the instructor's assessment of the level of each class, compared to similar classes taught previously.

Please note that final grades will be available on student registration system. Printed grade sheets are not mailed out.

Ambrose University Academic Policies:

Communication

All students have received an Ambrose e-mail account upon registration. It is the student's responsibility to check this account regularly as the Ambrose email system will be the professor's instrument for notifying students of important matters (cancelled class sessions, extensions, requested appointments, etc.) between class sessions. If students do not wish to use their Ambrose accounts, they will need to forward all messages from the Ambrose account to another personal account.

Registration

During the Registration Revision Period students may enter a course without permission, change the designation of any class from credit to audit and /or voluntary withdraw from a course without financial or academic penalty or record. Courses should be added or dropped on the student portal by the deadline date; please consult the List of Important Dates. After that date, the original status remains and the student is responsible for related fees.

Students intending to withdraw from a course after the Registration Revision Period must apply to the Office of the Registrar by submitting a "Request to Withdraw from a Course" form or by sending an email to the Registrar's Office by the Withdrawal Deadline; please consult the List of Important Dates on the my.ambrose.edu website. Travel is not considered a valid excuse for re-scheduling or missing a final exam.

Electronic Etiquette

Students are expected to treat their instructor, guest speakers, and fellow students with respect. It is disruptive to the learning goals of a course or seminar and disrespectful to fellow students and the instructor to use electronics for purposes unrelated to the course during a class session. Turn off all cell phones and other electronic devices during class. Laptops should be used for class-related purposes only. Do not use iPods, MP3 players, or headphones. Some professors will not allow the use of any electronic devises in class. The professor has the right to disallow the student to use a laptop in future lectures and/or to ask a student to withdraw from the session if s/he does not comply with this policy. Repeat offenders will be directed to the Dean. If you are expecting communication due to an emergency, please speak with the professor before the class begins.

Any information collected will only be used and disclosed for the purpose for which the collection was intended. For further information contact the Privacy Compliance Officer at privacy@ambrose.edu.

An appeal for change of final grade must be submitted to the Registrar's Office in writing and providing the basis for appeal within 30 days of receiving notification of the final grade, providing the basis for appeal. A review fee of $50.00 must accompany the appeal. If the appeal is sustained, the fee will be refunded.

Academic Integrity

We are committed to fostering personal integrity and will not overlook breaches of integrity such as plagiarism and cheating. Academic dishonesty is taken seriously at Ambrose University as it undermines our academic standards and affects the integrity of each member of our learning community. Any attempt to obtain credit for academic work through fraudulent, deceptive, or dishonest means is academic dishonesty. Plagiarism involves presenting someone else's ideas, words, or work as one's own. Plagiarism is fraud and theft, but plagiarism can also occur by accident when a student fails or forgets to acknowledge to another person's ideas or words. Plagiarism and cheating can result in a failing grade for an assignment, for the course, or immediate dismissal from the university college. Students are expected to be familiar with the policies in the current Academic Calendar that deal with plagiarism, cheating, and the penalties and procedures for dealing with these matters. All cases of academic dishonesty are reported to the Academic Dean and become part of the student's permanent record. In order to discourage plagiarism, papers submitted for this course may be subjected to an originality analysis by Turnitin software. See http://turnitin.com/en_us/highereducation for more information.

Note: Students are strongly advised to retain this syllabus for their records.
