Course Description

This course introduces students to post-secondary studies in English by exploring developments in literature and language in and over time. Students will have opportunities to study particular themes and compare different genres in and across a broad array of texts, placed in their historical contexts, which may range from the Renaissance to contemporary times. This course aims at developing sensitivity to genre, cultivating writing skills, and providing students with a set of literary terms and critical techniques as a foundation for further literary study.

A minimum of 30% of class time will be devoted to writing instruction. Because the course integrates writing instruction with the study of literature—writing through literature—this stated minimum will normally be exceeded. Graded written assignments, informal writing exercises, writing workshops, free-writing exercises, stylistic analysis, research skills, peer editing, multiple drafts, and ungraded writing will be undertaken. Students will be required to write three essays that will be marked and formally graded. During the course, students will write at least 4000 words.

Expected Learning Outcomes

- To introduce students to major literary genres, concepts, and terms
- To teach students literary analytical techniques with which to understand literature for their profit and enjoyment
- To build competence in writing through the study of literature, giving close attention to mechanics, structure, argument, editing, and research techniques

Requirements:

- Class sessions will be largely devoted to considering the assigned readings. Therefore:
 - Read all assigned texts before class;
 - Always bring the relevant texts to class;
 - Print any readings posted on Moodle and bring them with you to class.
- Additional texts introduced in class will always be available on Moodle.
- In addition to the assigned readings, you are responsible for the content of all lectures on these readings, including their historical and literary backgrounds. In other words, attend class.
- All assignments are due by the beginning of class on the date specified. For each, a digital file must be uploaded to Moodle to be run through Turnitin and a hardcopy submitted in class.
- Late assignments:
 - The penalty for late assignments is one full letter grade per week late. Moreover, late assignments may be graded and returned later than on-time submissions.
 - Extensions may be granted on written assignments in exceptional circumstances, but must be arranged in advance (not the day before!) or vouched for by documentation (for example, a doctor's note).
- All assignments must be submitted to receive a passing final grade.
- The most current version of this syllabus will always be available on Moodle. You are responsible for any changes announced in class.

Evaluation:

Participation – 5%

Participation is your visible engagement with the class and the readings: read the assigned texts before class, bring your textbook, look alert in class, ask questions, share your thoughts, and set up an appointment with me when you need help. Participation requires regular attendance! Skip class and your grades will suffer.

Literalization Exercises – 4 x 5% each = 20%

To understand a poem, one must first identify its plain, literal meaning. You will write five literalizations—translation assignments for which you will take the figurate language of poetry and restate it in logical prose. The best four will count toward your final grade. Due as indicated on the course schedule above.

Essays – 10%, 20%, 25%

Essays will allow you to develop your writing ability by practicing three different types of textual analysis: analysis (1000 words; 10%), comparison (1500 words; 20%), and research (1500 words; 25%). Due as indicated on the course schedule above.

Final Exam – 20%

The exam will be comprehensive of the entire course and will take place on Wednesday, April 18 at 5:30pm.

Attendance:

Learning how to read literature and write essays is not simply a matter of memorization. Therefore, class attendance and punctuality is mandatory. Attendance will be taken and will influence your participation grade. Any student who misses more than 5 classes will automatically fail the class. If you miss a class, it is your responsibility to borrow notes from a classmate.

Classroom Etiquette:

- Be in class and be on time. Attendance will be taken at the beginning of each class.
- Do not talk compulsively. Be self-aware and leave space for others' voices.
- Do not be silent; putting your thoughts into words helps solidify your ideas. Your contribution matters and can be as simple as asking a question or making an observation about the text.
- Turn off your phone and do not check it during class.
- You may use laptops in class solely for taking notes. If I find you using electronics for any other purpose, you will lose this privilege.

Because of the nature of the Alpha 4.00 system, there can be no uniform University-wide conversion scale. The relationship between raw scores (e.g. percentages) and the resultant letter grade will depend on the nature of the course and the instructor's assessment of the level of each class, compared to similar classes taught previously.

Please note that final grades will be available on student registration system. Printed grade sheets are not mailed out.

Ambrose University Academic Policies:

Communication

All students have received an Ambrose e-mail account upon registration. It is the student's responsibility to check this account regularly as the Ambrose email system will be the professor's instrument for notifying students of important matters (cancelled class sessions, extensions, requested appointments, etc.) between class sessions. If students do not wish to use their Ambrose accounts, they will need to forward all messages from the Ambrose account to another personal account.

Registration

During the Registration Revision Period students may enter a course without permission, change the designation of any class from credit to audit and /or voluntary withdraw from a course without financial or academic penalty or record. Academic Integrity

We are committed to fostering personal integrity and will not overlook breaches of integrity such as plagiarism and cheating. Academic dishonesty is taken seriously at Ambrose University as it undermines our academic standards and affects the integrity of each member of our learning community. Any attempt to obtain credit for academic work through fraudulent, deceptive, or dishonest means is academic dishonesty. Plagiarism involves presenting someone else's ideas, words, or work as one's own. Plagiarism is fraud and theft, but plagiarism can also occur by accident when a student fails or forgets to acknowledge to another person's ideas or words. Plagiarism and cheating can result in a failing grade for an assignment, for the course, or immediate dismissal from the university college. Students are expected to be familiar with the policies in the current Academic Calendar that deal with plagiarism, cheating, and the penalties and procedures for dealing with these matters. All cases of academic dishonesty are reported to the Academic Dean and become part of the student's permanent record.

Note: Students are strongly advised to retain this syllabus for their records.
