Course Description

The B.Ed. program includes three (3) graduated Field Experience (FE) courses integrated throughout the two-year program designed to augment and support the course work in the core education courses in the program. The FE courses are designed to give students a developmental and systematic experience in understanding the life of the school (FE 500), the life of teachers and teaching (FE 600), and an introduction to curriculum design and program planning (FE 700). The FE courses are integrated with the core education courses to give students a progressive and applied (theory to practice) understanding of the role of the teacher in a school, in teaching with other teachers and with responsibilities to the Program of Studies and the professional practice of translating the Program of Studies requirements into programs and instruction in the elementary school.

Field Experience 700 seminar is a non-credit 20-hour class scheduled in Semesters 1 and 2 of a student's final year of the B.Ed. program. The seminar is intended to support students to design learning tasks for field experience that meet diverse student needs in inclusive public-school classrooms and to prepare students for increased pre-service teaching responsibility. Students will engage in comprehensive learning-task design and engage in a professional inquiry to foster deep thinking for identity formation.

FE700 provides pre-service teachers (PSTs) a transitional experience in preparation for the teaching profession. Over the ten-week field experience practicum, PSTs will gradually assume 100% of the partner teacher's responsibilities. PSTs will be required to provide evidence of meeting the expectations related to the six competencies of the Teaching Quality Standard (TQS):

1. Fostering Effective Relationships
2. Engaging in Career-Long Learning
3. Demonstrating a Professional Body of Knowledge
4. Establishing Inclusive Learning Environments
5. Applying Foundational Knowledge about First Nations, Métis and Inuit
6. Adhering to Legal Frameworks and Policies

Teacher Quality Standards Addressed

This seminar course builds explicit connection to the following Teaching Quality Standards:

- Competency #1- Fostering Effective Relationships
 - Competency #4- Establishing Inclusive Learning Environments
 - Competency #5- Applying Foundational Knowledge about First Nations, Métis, and Inuit
- All six of the TQS competencies will be addressed throughout the field experience.

Program Requirements

Completion of FE600, completion of all required course work, and the recommendation of course instructors.

Course Outcomes

- Consolidate the TQS competencies in practice
- Formulate dispositions to shape novice teacher identity
- Assess to determine instructional strategies in context

Expected Learning Outcomes

The Field Experience 700 seminar will build on pre-service teacher understanding of life in Alberta schools through collaboration, reflection, and shared praxis. Shared praxis is one of the three main guiding principles of the Ambrose University School of Education Bachelor of Education degree program providing both direction and focus for the seminar.

The FE700 seminars model a collegial community that fosters increased awareness and aptitude in the following: the assessment and evaluation of student learning; communication with parents; the use of educational technology; the development and articulation of a personal professional teaching philosophy; and the Teaching Quality Standard.

PSTs will be expected to engage as professionals, including contributing to discussions, sharing resources, asking thoughtful questions, and enhancing the overall understanding of the education profession with peers. It is designed for pre-service teachers to continue to reflect upon their teaching practices and assumptions, theories, values, and concepts that give rise to their practices. Please arrive prepared for seminar small group conversations by completing at least one reading/video/podcast from the reading choice list found for each week on Moodle.

The FE700 seminar will further develop a pre-service teacher's knowledge, skill, and ability in the following areas:

- Projecting a professional image
- Managing time and resources
- Navigating and effectively using Alberta Education documents including Programs of Study and IPP templates
- Unit and lesson planning
- Classroom management and removing barriers to successful learning
- Assessment, evaluation, and communication of student achievement
- Teaching contexts
- Effectively meeting the needs of all learners
- Professional development trends in education
- Developing meaningful opportunity for inquiry
- Further defining and articulating a personal philosophy of education
- Entering the teaching profession in Alberta

Connecting Field Experience to Seminar

1. Field journal reflections
2. Small group discussions and community of practice
3. Peer feedforward/feedback with a cohort member as critical friend

Seminar Requirements

The field experience seminar is based on reflection, shared praxis, collaboration, and conversations related to success in the field experience. Pre-service teachers are expected to come prepared to discuss the seminar session topic by based on their observations and learning during the prior week. To support the professional development of every member of the cohort, participation and respectful discourse are expected.

Attendance is mandatory for all seminar sessions to receive the final grade 'PASS' for FE 700 A & B. The successful completion of FE 700-A is a prerequisite for all Fall term courses and FE 700-B.

Requests for seminar absence due to school retreat or overnight fieldtrip

If a preservice teacher is requested to attend a school retreat or overnight fieldtrip that would cause an absence for seminar, it is the responsibility of the preservice teacher to communicate a request for absence with advance notice to the Director of Field Experience. Requests must include the date, reason for the absence, and wait for approval from the Director of Field Experience prior to the scheduled absence. As seminar is focused on shared praxis, there will be an assignment required of the preservice teacher. The PST is asked to record (using zoom or teams) a 30-minute conversation with a critical friend from seminar on the topic of the seminar missed, and the recording is submitted to the Director of Field Experience and Seminar Instructor within 3 school days of the absence.

Field Journal Reflections

Pre-service teachers are required to complete three field journal reflections each week for the duration of FE 700 A&B. Field journal reflections are to be shared with the partner teacher and university consultant at the completion of each week. Field journal reflections serve to inform the university consultant of PST's response to feedback during observation visits as well as other conversations related to field.

The field journal should focus on observations, thoughts, and reflections on observations as well as the effectiveness of lessons and learning activities presented during the week. Field journal entries are not narrative retellings of the day, but rather 'thinking through' factors that led to a successful/challenging lesson, and/or observations and emerging questions about student learning and engagement, instructional design, assessment, and student engagement.

Field journal entries must meet the following criteria:

- One page in length, focused
- Contain exploration of PST's emerging understanding of teaching and learning
- Reflections on observations, challenges, and experiences, not a critique of the classroom, partner teacher (PT) or school
- Provide evidence of striving to meet partner teacher feedback
- Three field journal entries are to be completed each week during FE700 and submitted to both the PT and university consultant (UC) due via email to UC each Saturday by noon

Your Ambrose University assigned UC may choose to make notes on field journal entries, may take up elements of the entries in discussion or observation visits or may ask you to follow through on a component at a later date.

PST will choose the method for completing the field experience journals (Word Doc, Google Doc) and will be consistent in sharing these with the PT and UC weekly. Audio/Video recordings are not acceptable due to the time needed to review for our partners and they are not accessible for all users. If choosing to use a Google Doc, PST will be responsible to send the document link each week by email to the PT and UC. There are multiple samples of field journal templates in the FE700 Moodle.

FE700 Lesson plans/task designs

All lesson plans must be completed according to the expectations outlined in various School of Education courses. As each field experience placement is unique, PSTs may find additional lesson-planning expectations in place with their partner teacher or partner school. Lesson plans are required for each lesson opportunity the PST will teach. In all cases, PSTs are expected to complete all lesson plan and task design details, even if the partner teacher does not. Lesson plan formats will be available in the Moodle or Google Classroom.

Lesson plans and task designs are to be shared prior to any observations by the PT or UC. Best practice is to share these with both the partner teacher and university consultant the evening prior to the observation. All learning tasks must address the outlined requirements and expectations of the partner teacher and partner school. This includes any assigned task that is selected to enhance a PST's understanding of program development and teacher responsibilities. The provided lesson plan blueprint format is required for formal UC observations. The template can be found in Moodle. The Ambrose University assigned UC may choose to make notes on lesson plans, may take up elements of the lesson plan in discussion or observation visits, or may ask the PST to follow through on an aspect of the lesson plan at a later date.

Portfolio

Throughout the field experience, pre-service teachers are asked to gather evidence of the six TQS competencies. These are shared with the partner teacher, seminar instructor and university consultant to provide evidence of PST development of the competencies. The portfolio highlights growth and progress in FE 700 and may be useful when completing the Living Portfolio at the completion of the Bachelor of Education program.

Your FE700 portfolio may include:

- a collection of files in a folder, a sampling of PST work and learning
- lessons, with reflections on the lesson noted on it (was the timing accurately planned, when were the students most engaged, how effective were transitions, did students demonstrate attainment of the objective, what worked, what needs to be changed, how could the lesson be more effectively differentiated, are there opportunities for more formative feedback, etc.)

- communication with students or parents from the placement school (newsletter, email home)
- examples of the ways the PST effectively fostered inclusive learning opportunities in the placement setting
- evidence of feedback provided to support student learning
- evidence of accessing and using resources to support planning, effective teaching and assessment
- describe how the PST engaged peers, partner teacher, university consultant, colleagues, and their mentor to support the development of a professional body of knowledge
- the development of a personal professional teaching philosophy
- examples of growth in assessing and evaluating student learning

Attendance

Attendance at each seminar session is mandatory. If a seminar session is missed, it is expected that PSTs contact the seminar instructor prior to class. The PST will be expected to complete an assigned task that is connected to the topic of the missed seminar session.

Regular attendance in the field-experience placement school is tracked by both the partner teacher and university consultant. There is a maximum of 2 sick days, with permission from the partner teacher in FE700. Absences that extend beyond the 2 days will require consultation with the partner teacher, university consultant, and Director of Field Experience to organize make-up dates during Reading Weeks.

It is the responsibility of the PST to communicate absences to the partner teacher, seminar instructor, university consultant, and Director of Field Experience in advance when possible. In an extenuating circumstance, the partner teacher, university consultant, and seminar instructor will consult with the Director of Field Experience to construct an action plan for the time missed.

FE700 A & B course grades will not be assessed until all components of field experience have been completed. FE 700 is a prerequisite for the final term courses. Special considerations will be made for students who are dealing intimately with COVID-19.

Well-becoming Plan

PSTs will be asked to review the School of Education's Preservice Teacher Well-becoming plan document that will be posted in Moodle and Google Classroom. Seminar Instructors will also encourage each PST to have a plan for their wellbeing and well-becoming as PSTs navigate the exciting and challenging work of this final practicum. PSTs can engage with this plan, their mentors, their seminar instructors, the Director of Field Experience, and Faculty for support. Further resources are listed on the final page of the course syllabus.

Grade Summary

Field Experience 700 is a Pass/Fail course, no letter grades will be assigned. Success in the FE700 seminar will be based on the demonstration of professionalism, consistent attendance, engagement and participation, reflection, and collaboration.

The FE700 midpoint assessment is completed by the partner teacher and preservice teacher. It is the responsibility of the pre-service teacher to gather the document, ensure it is accurate and complete, and upload to Google Classroom. An evaluation of "emergent" may result in a Notice of Concern (as per the School of Education policies) in consultation with the Partner Teacher, and University personnel.

The final FE700 assessment is completed by the partner teacher in consultation with the university consultant. It is the responsibility of the pre-service teacher to gather the documents, ensure all are accurate and complete and upload to Moodle. A grade will not be assessed until all documents, with required signatures, have been uploaded to Moodle. Included in the assessment is a pre-service teacher self-assessment, to be completed and shared with the partner teacher and university consultant prior to the end of FE700.

The seminar instructor will include a required comment, based on professionalism. Evidence of professionalism in FE700 seminar includes the following:

- Regular attendance to all classes
- Punctual to all classes
- Prepared for all classes
- Engagement in class discussions and activities
- Demonstration of respectful and inclusive discourse
- Demonstration of a professional manner at all times
- Contribution to shared cohort resources

*It will be assumed you have read the Notification of Concern and Withdraw Policy and Documents. In the event of a Notification of Concern or a request to withdraw, please note the re-admission process and requirements, as well as conditions that may lead to a Notification of Concern. ****
All requests to drop or withdraw from the Education program classes must be submitted to the Associate Dean, School of Education, and the Office of the Registrar in writing.

Ambrose University Important Information:

Communication

All students have received an Ambrose e-mail account upon registration. It is the student's responsibility to check this account regularly as the Ambrose email system will be the professor's instrument for notifying students of important matters (cancelled class sessions, extensions, requested appointments, etc.) between class sessions.

Exam Scheduling

Students who find a conflict in their exam schedule must submit a Revised Examination Request form to the Registrar's Office by the deadline date; please consult the Academic Calendar. Requests will be considered for the following reasons only: 1) the scheduled final examination slot conflicts with another exam; 2) the student has three final exams within three consecutive exam time blocks; 3) the scheduled final exam slot conflicts with an exam at another institution; 4) extenuating circumstances. Travel is not considered a valid excuse for re-scheduling or missing a final exam.

Standards of Behaviour in the Classroom Setting

Learning is an active and interactive process, a joint venture between student and instructor and between student and student. Some topics covered within a class may lead to strong reactions and opinions. It is important that Students understand that they are entitled to hold contradictory beliefs and that they should be encouraged to engage with these topics in a critical manner. Committing to this type of "active learning" significantly increases the learning experience for both teacher and student, and reflects the Christian imperative to pursue truth, which lies at the heart of the Ambrose educational experience. However, active discussion of controversial topics will be undertaken with respect and empathy, which are the foundations of civil discourse in the Classroom Setting. Primary responsibility for managing the classroom rests with the instructor. The instructor may direct a student to leave the class if the student engages in any behaviour that disrupts the classroom setting. If necessary, Ambrose security will be contacted to escort the student from class. Please refer to your professor regarding their electronic etiquette expectations.

Academic Integrity

We are committed to fostering personal integrity and will not overlook breaches of integrity such as plagiarism and cheating. Academic dishonesty is taken seriously at Ambrose University as it undermines our academic standards and affects the integrity of each member of our learning community. Any attempt to obtain credit for academic work through fraudulent, deceptive, or dishonest means is academic dishonesty. Plagiarism involves presenting someone else's ideas, words, or work as one's own. Plagiarism is fraud and theft, but plagiarism can also occur by accident when a student fails or forgets to acknowledge another person's ideas or words. Plagiarism and cheating can result in a failing grade for an assignment, for the course, or immediate dismissal from the university. Students are expected to be familiar with the policies in the current Academic Calendar that deal with plagiarism, cheating, and the penalties and procedures for dealing with these matters. All cases of academic dishonesty are reported to the Academic Dean and become part of the student's permanent record.

Academic Policies

It is the responsibility of all students to become familiar with and adhere to academic policies as stated in the Academic Calendar. The academic calendar can be found at <https://ambrose.edu/content/academic-calendar-2>

Privacy

Personal information (information about an individual that may be used to identify that individual) may be required as part of taking this class. Any information collected will only be used and disclosed for the purpose for which the collection was intended. For further information contact the Privacy Compliance Officer at privacy@ambrose.edu.

Coursework Extensions

Should a request for a time extension on coursework exceed the end of the term, a Coursework Extension Application must be completed and submitted to the Office of the Registrar. The extension (if granted) will be recorded on the student record. Extensions are granted at the discretion of the instructor and are normally granted for 30 days beyond the last day of the term.

Normally, Course Extension Applications will be considered only when all of the following conditions are met:

- the quality of prior course work has been satisfactory;
- circumstances beyond your control, such as an extended illness or death of a family member, make it impossible for you to complete the course work on time; and
- you submit Coursework Extension Application to the Office of the Registrar on or before the deadline specified in the Academic Schedule.

If granted, time extensions do not excuse you from a final examination where one has been scheduled for the course.

A temporary grade of TX will be assigned until a final grade is submitted in accordance with the new deadline. A final grade of F will apply to:

- all course work submitted after the end of the semester unless a coursework extension has been granted; and all course work submitted after the revised due date provided by an approved extension to coursework.

Academic Success and Supports

Accessibility Services

Academic accommodation is provided to Ambrose students with disabilities in accordance with the Alberta Human Rights Act and the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms. Provision of academic accommodation does not lower the academic standards of the university nor remove the need for evaluation and the need to meet essential learning outcomes. Reasonable accommodations are tailored to the individual student, are flexible, and are determined by considering the barriers within the unique environment of a postsecondary institution. It can take time to organize academic accommodations and funding for disability-related services. Students with a disability who wish to have an academic accommodation are encouraged to contact Accessibility Services as early as possible to ensure appropriate planning for any needs that may include accommodations. Staff can then meet with students to determine areas to facilitate success, and if accommodations are required, ensure those accommodations are put in place by working with faculty.
